March & April 2020

Coming Soon!

In these turbulent times, affordable housing is needed more than ever. Doing our part to flatten the curve hasn't stopped Linc from keeping busy with our mission to build communities and strengthen neighborhoods. We are thankful for Walton Construction Inc., one of our general contractors, for continuing to work hard even as they quickly implemented additional precautions to keep workers safe in the midst of the pandemic. They're helping ensure that we stay on schedule to provide TWO new affordable housing communities this year for individuals who have experienced homelessness.

Spark at Midtown - Long Beach, 95 apartments (pictured above)

Each day brings us closer to opening this beautiful community. The framing, roof, windows, and rough plumbing are all finished. Tubs have been delivered and electrical wiring is almost complete. We can't wait for this mixed-use development to start bringing affordable apartments, community-serving retail, and a multi-faceted outdoor park space to the City of Long Beach.

Springhaven- Willowbrook, 100 apartments

We've officially passed the halfway point! Despite some delays due to rain, the roof is now 50% complete. Once finished, Springhaven will partner with the Drew Child Development Corporation, the L.A. County Department of Health Services, The People Concern, and other local organizations to further the integration of affordable housing with supportive services for a stronger community.

Our New Look

Check out our completely redesigned website! In this redesign, we've sought to exemplify our values, including excellence, transparency, and innovation as we created a better user experience. With updated information, simple navigation, and a sophisticated mobile interface, we hope that it will make it easier to learn more about Linc's work and how you can partner with us.

COVID-19: Our Response

At Linc Housing we believe that we will emerge stronger and better from the challenges of this time as long as we remember what it truly means to be members of our immediate and broader community. During the current health crisis, we are inspired by the way so many have embraced collective responsibility and accountability to their neighbors.

For our part, we know that our residents are among the most vulnerable during this time. While most programming has been suspended, we continue to host the most crucial services, including food bank distribution and resource referrals. We are closely monitoring the needs of our residents, which range from food delivery to educational support.

In response, we've established Neighbors Care COVID-19 Relief to swiftly meet the resource, financial, and service needs our residents face. To support this vital work, please contribute to the fund or contact us for volunteer information.

Finding Home

Mr. Rodgers cried the day that he moved into his apartment at The Nightingale. He could not believe how nice it was and that he was a part of this new community. However, it took him a long time to get used to living in an apartment.

For months he continued living in the only home he truly knew, his van. Even after being hospitalized due to an assault, he returned to the familiar van rather than the safety of his new apartment.

Although Mr. Rodgers couldn't yet bring himself to move into his apartment, he began to come by the community room each day for coffee, and he even started participating in some of Linc's resident programs.

In time, he was finally ready. He sold his van, moved into his apartment, and is now an official full-time resident at The Nightingale.
